

The Jewish Studies Program and Kent Hillel present

“Germans of the Jewish 'Tribe': Visions of Community between Nationalism and Particularism, 1850 to 1933”

Tuesday, April 4, 2006
8:00 pm - Kiva
Free Admittance

Join historian

Till van Rahden, Ph.D.

Professor of History, University of Cologne

Dr. van Rahden will explore languages of diversity in the Nineteenth and early Twentieth Century, situating notions of diversity within the very language of universalism. He analyzes civil society's fundamental duality — its simultaneous tolerance and intolerance, its inclusive potential and its oft-contested exclusions.

Please join us! All are welcome!

Sponsored by the Jewish Studies Program and Kent Hillel.
Call 330-672-8924 for more information.