COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The College of Business Administration and the Graduate School of Management hold membership in the AACSB, International—The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. This association is recognized by the National Commission on Accrediting and the U.S. Office of Education as the official accrediting agency for business at the collegial level. AACSB standards include an evaluation of faculty adequacy and competence; admissions standards and caliber of the student body; library facilities; physical plant and equipment; financial support of the institution; and the content and breadth of both the professional and nonprofessional curricular requirements.

The College of Business Administration was organized in 1936 under enabling legislation passed by the General Assembly of the state of Ohio. After starting with 300 students and four faculty members, the college now numbers approximately 4,000 undergraduate students, 500 master’s students, 50 doctoral students and 56 faculty members.

The college may be contacted through the following:

MISSION STATEMENT
The Kent State University College of Business Administration and Graduate School of Management fulfill their charge from the university and the state of Ohio by providing high-quality undergraduate, graduate and executive programs by engaging in a combination of instructional, research and scholarship, and service activities. While selected graduate programs encompass national and international clienteles, our programs primarily serve the citizens of Northeast Ohio. For selected graduate programs, the geographical sphere encompasses national and international clienteles.

The undergraduate programs of the College of Business Administration provide high-quality education in business and a foundation for lifelong learning. These programs serve as an important resource for Northeast Ohio by offering undergraduate-level business education throughout the region.

Educational Objectives
To improve student success, ensure continued quality improvement of the undergraduate programs, and enhance regional access to programs and courses, the college will:

- develop alternative means of delivering courses and programs throughout Northeast Ohio.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE
The College of Business Administration is composed of five academic departments. They are:
- Accounting
- Economics
- Finance
- Management and Information Systems
- Marketing

The five departments offer the following undergraduate majors:
- Accounting
- Business Management
- Computer Information Systems
- Economics
- Entrepreneurship
- Finance
- Managerial Marketing
- Marketing
- Operations Management

DEGREES
The College of Business Administration and the Graduate School of Management offer six degree programs at the graduate and undergraduate levels:

- Doctor of Philosophy
- Master of Arts in Economics
- Master of Business Administration
- Master of Science in Accounting
- Master of Science in Financial Engineering
- Bachelor of Business Administration

Bachelor of Business Administration
All undergraduate programs in the college lead to the Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) degree. To receive a baccalaureate degree from the College of Business Administration, students must, in addition to other requirements, satisfy the 36-37 hour minimum requirement stipulated in the Liberal Education Requirements (LER) (see Pages 85-87) and complete 6 credit hours of diversity coursework (see Pages 89-91).
Each candidate for the Bachelor of Business Administration must meet requirements in two areas: the pre-major program (freshman and sophomore) requirements; and the advanced business program (junior and senior) requirements.

The college also is an active participant in the university’s Honors Program. A business option in the general honors program is offered during the freshman and sophomore years, and various other opportunities are provided during the junior and senior years.

ACADEMIC ADVISING
Academic Advising benefits our students by partnering them with professional and faculty advisors who can be intellectual mentors, advisors and advocates. The professional advisors in the Undergraduate Programs Office, Room 107 BSA, telephone 330-672-2872, are the primary advisors for the College of Business Administration students. Advisors not only guide our students through their academic program(s), but they also guide them in meaningful investigation and choices for learning opportunities outside the classroom. These opportunities include relevant career/major exploration via student group/club activity, campus and community service and activities, leadership development, national and study abroad opportunities, relevant internship experiences and more. All students are encouraged to connect with their advisor(s) each semester to maximize their learning experiences and to optimally achieve their program goals and requirements.

All new freshmen and transfer students (with less than 24 semester hours) are assigned to their first year advisor and must register in their First Year Experience FLASH Point class which orients them to the College of Business Administration expectations, requirements and resources. Students who select one of our Learning Communities or Freshman Interest Groups additionally are connected to a fellowship of similarly interested students to share learning opportunities and experiences.

ACADEMIC PROCESSES
Freshmen and transfer students are admitted to the pre-major program, which encompasses the first two years of study within the College of Business Administration. All business administration students are required to satisfy the 36-hour minimum requirement as outlined in the Liberal Education Requirements (LER) (see Pages 85-87) and complete 6 credit hours of diversity coursework (see Pages 89-91).

During the second year of study—after completion of at least 46 semester hours—students who wish to be considered for advanced business status in the college should apply for conditional admission with the help of an academic advisor in the Undergraduate Programs Office (see Admission Requirements).

Admission to the advanced program is not automatic but is based upon admissions criteria set by the dean of the college. Admission is based on satisfactory completion of a specified number of credit hours, a specific core of courses and a specified GPA. (See Advanced Business Program, Admission Requirements on Page 245.)

Seniors in the advanced business program of the college must obtain an application for graduation from the Undergraduate Programs Office. Deadlines for graduation application are:

- December graduation—March 15
- May graduation—September 15
- August graduation—December 15

Assistance and information about college and university policies and procedures may be obtained from the Undergraduate Programs Office. Ignorance of the correct policies or procedures is not grounds for an exception to these rules.

INFORMATION FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS
Admission Requirements for Transfer Students
At least a 2.50 overall transfer GPA is required for admission to all College of Business Administration majors except economics and marketing. The economics major requires a minimum 2.25 transfer GPA. Marketing will admit up to 150 students to the major each fall, including transfer students, using a target GPA of at least 2.50.

Transfer students with less than a 2.50 (2.25 for economics) GPA may seek admission to another Kent State college. After completing a minimum of 12 credit hours at Kent State University, with a minimum 2.50 (2.25 for economics) GPA, transfer students are eligible for admission to the College of Business Administration.

Transfer students with 60 or more semester hours (or the equivalent) and less than a 2.50 (2.25 for economics) GPA (on a 4.00 scale) are not eligible to take junior- and/or senior-level business coursework. Proper advising is imperative. Transfer students are expected to receive advising prior to scheduling classes; failure to do so could result in a loss of credit hours.

Application of Transfer Credit
At Kent State University, the process for evaluation of transfer credit is a two-step procedure. First, potential transfer students send the Kent State Admissions Office an official copy of their college and/or university transcript(s). The students then will receive from the Kent State Admissions Office an Evaluation of Transfer Credit that indicates how coursework will transfer. Although coursework will be listed on the Evaluation of Transfer Credit, it does not imply that all coursework will be used toward the business degree.
Therefore, the next step in this process requires that the students consult with an academic advisor in the Undergraduate Programs Office, 107 Business Administration Building, to determine the applicability of this transfer credit to the degree requirements of the College of Business Administration. (The students should bring their copy of the Evaluation of Transfer Credit, Catalog[s] and previous transcripts to this conference.) It is expected that transfer students consult an advisor prior to registering for coursework at Kent State, otherwise enrollment in courses is done at the students’ own risk.

Students attending other institutions who anticipate transferring to Kent State to pursue the B.B.A. are urged to consult the degree requirements in this Catalog and to correspond with an academic advisor. Students attending two-year institutions who anticipate transferring to Kent State to work toward the B.B.A. should, as closely as possible, take work at the two-year institution which is equivalent to the Pre-major Program Requirements shown at a later point in this section of the Catalog. Failure to follow this plan of study may result in significant loss of credit applicable toward the B.B.A.

Validation of Transfer Credit
Transferred business coursework that is not considered to be directly applicable to Kent State coursework may be eligible for validation. Approved validation techniques include CLEP tests, Credit-By-Examination and/or successful completion of advanced coursework in the same subject field. (“Successful completion” is defined as minimum C [2.00] grade.) Please note that each of these options may not be available in all cases, and that students must qualify for validation opportunities based on the information below. To determine the possibilities for validation, students are expected to meet with an academic advisor in the Undergraduate Programs Office.

Credit-By-Examination or CLEP tests to validate credit may be attempted by students transferring into the college with approval from the appropriate department provided the testing is an option.

Another validation option is open only to transfer students who have a cumulative transfer GPA of at least 2.50 and a grade of C (2.00) or better in the course in question. To validate accounting courses, a minimum grade of B (3.00) may be required for advanced accounting courses and a minimum C (2.00) in all others. This option is contingent upon an advanced course being available. Students seeking to employ this option should consult with an academic advisor in the Undergraduate Programs Office before attempting to validate their transfer credit in this manner. The assistant dean must approve in advance all arrangements to validate transfer credit. In all cases, a catalog description, a course syllabus, and the name of the text and author are required for adequate review of the validation request.

INFORMATION FOR KENT STATE STUDENTS WHO WANT TO TAKE COURSEWORK AT ANOTHER UNIVERSITY OR COLLEGE
Students in the College of Business Administration who want to take coursework elsewhere and transfer credit hours toward their degree at Kent State are not transfer students. If permitted, this is considered transient work. To determine eligibility to do transient work, students should consult the university’s policy on transient work and meet with a College of Business Administration academic advisor.

PROBATION AND DISMISSAL
Students in the College of Business Administration must meet the scholastic requirements of the university as stated in the General Information section of the university Catalog.

Students dismissed from the university may apply for reinstatement to the College of Business Administration after a period of one academic year (two semesters excluding summer terms). To be considered for reinstatement, students should contact the Undergraduate Programs Office, 107 Business Administration Building, for an Application for Reinstatement.

Academic work taken by students while dismissed from the university must be approved by the assistant dean PRIOR to taking the work if the students wish to return to Kent State University and apply said coursework toward the B.B.A. Any academic work completed by the students while dismissed from the university without the approval of the assistant dean may not be acceptable as meeting the requirements of the College of Business Administration.

Pre-Major Program

Admission Requirements

Entering Freshmen: Any students who meet Kent State's admission standards and are admitted to Kent State as entering freshmen (i.e., with no semester credit hours toward a degree) are admitted to a pre-major program (e.g., pre-accounting, pre-business management, pre-computer information systems, pre-economics, pre-finance, pre-marketing, pre-operations management and pre-business).

Kent State Transfers: All other students (i.e., those who have one or more semester credit hours toward a degree) may apply at any time for admission as a pre-major. Students with a cumulative GPA of 2.50 or better at the time the decision is made will be admitted to a pre-major. Students with a cumulative GPA below 2.50 will NOT be admitted to the pre-major. Note: The cumulative GPA will reflect all graded coursework at Kent State.

Entering Transfers From Other Universities: First-semester transfers must have a 2.50 cumulative GPA for admission to the College of Business. The cumulative GPA reflects work at all institutions attended.

B.B.A. in Computer Information Systems

The Bachelor of Business Administration in Computer Information Systems is designed to provide students with a focus on the creation and supervision of the computerized information systems (CIS) that commonly are used in organizations of all types and sizes. There is a primary emphasis on problem solving with state-of-the-art programming languages and methodologies. Examples of CIS include airline reservation systems, bank automated teller systems, trading systems for stock exchanges and accounting/auditing systems.

Once the required courses have been completed, students can select electives that will lead them in various professional career directions. One of these directions focuses on system development—preparing students for work as programmers, systems analysts and application system architects. Careers in this specialization area can involve intensive technical work writing program code, work in database design and support, projects in high-level system design and project management of these activities. A second direction focuses on the creation and maintenance of local and wide area networks and other computing infrastructure components, and prepares students for careers as network engineers and network managers. Some material taught in courses connected with both of these specialization areas correlates with the knowledge needed to pass professional certification exams.

Students also are strongly encouraged to engage in a CIS internship, which involves a summer or a semester of paid professional experience in industry. Internship experience helps show the relevance of on-campus courses to professional work, helps students focus their career plans and often enables students to secure better postgraduation jobs. Three hours of academic credit can be earned for an internship.

Guidance in selecting electives is available from the CIS faculty or from the Undergraduate Programs Office. Permission is required prior to registration for MIS 24060 and 24070.

B.B.A. in Economics

A Bachelor in Business Administration in Economics is excellent preparation for many careers. Employers are interested in potential employees who can conceptualize and solve problems; can quickly find, organize and use relevant information; and have analytical ability. These skills are emphasized in economics. Economics classes deal with vital current topics that are relevant to many careers, such as: our financial and banking system; environmental problems and policies; the economic relations between the United States and foreign countries; government spending and taxation policies; why the standard of living is so much lower in Third World countries than in the United States; and urban development and public policies in housing, transportation and welfare.

Economics majors obtain interesting and challenging positions, with excellent opportunities for advancement in areas such as business; government at the federal, state and local level; and nonprofit organizations. The skills emphasized in the economics major will prepare you well for the first position you obtain and also for future career changes. Undergraduate economics majors also are well prepared to pursue graduate work in economics. Furthermore, a major in economics is excellent preparation for law school. For students with an interest in international opportunities, the economics major is an excellent program to consider.

There are two programs in marketing at Kent State University: Marketing and Managerial Marketing. The Bachelor of Business Administration in Managerial Marketing emphasizes marketing within small-sized businesses (those with 500 or fewer employees and/or sales less than $100 million). The curriculum is designed to educate students to function effectively in the small-business environment by giving them the abilities to analyze information and make insightful and autonomous managerial decisions. These same skills also have value should students gain employment in large firms. The coursework for the major is sequential and integrated; each course builds upon prior classes to give students, upon graduation, a holistic body of knowledge, skills and abilities that will make them capable of being fully functional marketing professionals. Students majoring in marketing have a range of employment opportunities in such fields as personal selling, marketing management, product management, e-commerce, retailing and wholesaling as well as in service (e.g., airlines, banking), nonprofit, health care and public sector occupations.

- Only three managerial marketing major (3/45000) courses can be repeated and counted toward the managerial marketing major. Exceptions require the approval of the department chair. All attempts will count in the computation of the major, upper-division business and cumulative GPAs.

- Should students not obtain a C (2.00) grade or higher in MMTG 35011, they will be required to repeat MMTG 35011 during the following fall semester to alleviate skill deficits, and they will not be eligible to progress in the major.

Requirements to graduate with a B.B.A. in managerial marketing:

Marketing internships are an excellent source of real-world work experiences for students. Typically, an internship receiving 3 credit hours under MKTG 45292 requires students to work 12-15 hours per week for approximately 10 weeks in a marketing-related position. The responsibilities, supervision and training provided to the interns should be comparable to that which new college graduates in the organization usually receive. Grading is based on job performance plus a written report. With pre-approval, students may take MKTG 45292 to partially or completely fulfill the business elective requirement.

B.B.A. in Marketing

Marketing is a broad field entailing a wide variety of tasks involving the analysis, planning, implementation and control of marketing programs (i.e., the strategies and tactics used by businesses to sell goods and services to consumers and other businesses). There are two programs in marketing at Kent State University (“Marketing” and “Managerial Marketing”). The marketing curriculum described here is designed to provide students with a broad working knowledge of the theory and practice of marketing. Students majoring in marketing have employment opportunities in such fields as personal selling, advertising, product management, international marketing, marketing research and e-commerce; and working with manufacturing, wholesalers, advertising agencies, retail organizations and research-oriented firms. Recently, there has been an increased demand for marketing graduates from nonprofit organizations, the health care industry, service firms and the public sector.

The following policies are in effect for marketing majors:

- Admission of maximum 90 students into the marketing major each academic year, with a target cumulative GPA of at least 2.50. Class performance in MKTG 25010 will be taken into consideration in the admission process. Also required: a minimum C (2.00) in ENG 11011, ENGL 11011, MATH 11010, COMM 15000 and MKTG 25010.
- Students must take MKTG 35030 as the first course in the major and earn no less than a C (2.00) to continue in the major. MKTG 35030 may be taken concurrently with MKTG 35035 or MKTG 35050.
- Normally a marketing major course can be repeated only once. Exceptions require the approval of the department chairperson and the assistant dean for the College of Business Administration.
- The number of marketing major (3/45000) courses that can be repeated and counted toward the marketing major is three. All attempts will count in the computation of the major and cumulative GPAs.
- Should students not obtain a grade of C (2.00) or higher in MKTG 35030, Marketing Applications, they will be required to enroll in the course again until a grade of C (2.00) is achieved, with a maximum of three repeats.

Marketing internships are an excellent source of real-world work experiences for students. Typically, an internship receiving 3 credit hours under MKTG 45292 requires students to work a minimum 12-15 hours per week for approximately ten weeks in a marketing-related position. The responsibilities, supervision and training provided to the interns should be comparable to that which new college graduates in the organization usually receive. Grading is based on job performance plus a written report. With pre-approval, students may take MKTG 45292 to partially or completely fulfill the business elective requirement.

B.B.A. in Operations Management

Operations management is concerned with the efficient management of the production and delivery of goods and services for the customer in all organizations, ranging from modern manufacturing to administration of hospitals and other not-for-profit enterprises. The operations management curriculum is hands-on and primarily designed to cater to the needs of the small- to medium-sized enterprises (SME), which create most of the jobs that drive the economy. Students graduating from this major should be able to make significant contributions to these SMEs, either individually or in a team setting. Operations is the core of any business, and courses in this major provide students with a balanced mix of skills in the areas of analytical tools, management, human relations and computer use for effective decision making. Graduates may therefore expect to find employment in supervisory and managerial positions in both manufacturing and service industries. Some areas of emphasis include quality, project, supply chain and materials management as well as operations scheduling.

Operations management courses are not offered every semester. It is, therefore, the students’ responsibility to take the courses when scheduled. Unless for extenuating circumstances, no substitutes will be made for courses not taken when they were scheduled.

Students are advised to use the companion operations management scheduling sheet when registering to ensure that they are taking the courses as scheduled and to improve their chances of graduating in a timely manner.

The courses have minimal prerequisites and most can be taken concurrently at either the junior or senior level.

Many advanced operations management courses are offered only once per academic year, while others are offered in alternate years. Therefore, it is imperative that students register for these courses before registering for others with more scheduling flexibility. Furthermore, students are advised to plan ahead and consult the current schedule planner and the operations management faculty advisor in the Department of Management and Information Systems before registering for courses.

Requirements to be admitted as an operations management major:

- Satisfactory completion of 46 semester hours applicable to the pre-operations management major
- Minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA
- Minimum C (2.00) grade in COMM 15000, ENG 11011, 21011 and MATH 11010 (or placement out of ENG 11011 and/or MATH 11010 )

MINORS

Accounting Minor

The accounting minor is for students desiring accounting education in financial statement preparation, budgeting, costing and accounting systems at a level beyond the user of financial information but less than the preparation for being a professional accountant. The minor will be especially useful to students whose career paths are in business, not-for-profit and governmental organizations where dealing with financial issues will be an important part of their duties. The accounting minor is open to all students in all majors based on the admission requirements outlined below.

ACCT* 23020 Introduction to Financial Accounting 3
23021 Introduction to Managerial Accounting 3
33001 Corporate Accounting I 3
33004 Introduction to Accounting Systems 3

33012 Corporate Accounting II 3
MIS 24053 Introduction to Computer Applications 3

TOTAL 21

*Enrollment in ACCT 23020 requires completion of a minimum 28 semester hours.

Requirements for declaration of the accounting minor:

- Officially declared major (not pre-major, general, undeclared or exploratory); however, advising is available and recommended anytime prior to declaration
- Minimum 60 semester hours completed
- Minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA
- Minimum C (2.00) grade and 2.50 average GPA in (all attempts) ACCT 23020 and 23021

Graduation requirement: Minimum 2.50 GPA (including all attempts) is required in the minor courses.

Note: To earn a College of Business Administration minor, students must complete at least two courses in the minor at Kent State University on a graded basis. At least one of these courses must be at the upper-division (30000 or 40000) level.
Business Minor

The business minor provides students with exposure to a basic core of business courses. Students take at least one course in each department of the College of Business Administration and, thereby, gain an overview of the world of business while pursuing a degree in another college within Kent State University (e.g., liberal arts or fine arts).

The business minor is self-contained and assumes no prior experience with business concepts. It is designed to complement students’ primary career field, whatever that might be, by providing knowledge of a broad range of business functions: accounting, computers, economics, finance, management and marketing. Completion of the business minor will prepare students to understand and, to a limited extent, manage the business functions of an organization.

Note 3: The AACSB accreditation standards prohibit non-business majors from taking more than 25 percent of their degree requirements in business courses. Therefore, maximum 32 semester credit hours may be counted toward stated degree requirements.

Computer Information Systems Minor

Personal computers and local area networks are resulting in the penetration of computer information technology into even the smallest organizations. Today, most careers involve some activities related to the creation and use of computer-based information systems. To be competitive in the current job market, it is essential to achieve proficiency in the use of computer information systems (CIS).

The CIS minor is self-contained and assumes essentially no prior experience with computers or information systems. It is designed to complement the students’ primary career field, whatever that might be, by providing knowledge of CIS and their applications and hands-on experience with computer technology. Completion of the minor will prepare students to design and build CIS of modest size and to participate with professional analysts, on an effective partnership basis, in the construction of large complex systems. Students also will have the ability to aid their coworkers by performing computer system support in consultative and advisory roles.

Entrepreneurship Minor

The entrepreneurship minor is available to all majors of the university. Entrepreneurship is more than a set of tools and techniques for starting and growing a business. It’s a mindset, a creative way of looking at opportunities. It’s passion, doing what one loves. Entrepreneurship is about challenge, persistence and creating wealth. It is about operating a business, whether one owns it or not.

The entrepreneurship minor offers students the opportunity to explore entrepreneurship regardless of their academic major. This minor is designed to bring an entrepreneurial perspective to their major field of study. Students are immersed in the entrepreneurial process through coursework, entrepreneurial projects and exposure to many entrepreneurs in the community. Students are prepared for the various aspects of starting a business, acquiring a business, corporate entrepreneurship or working for a small business.

This minor is open to 100 students at any given time, with maximum 30 of the top applicants being accepted into the program each year. Students apply for the minor and complete a personal interview for consideration. The core competencies of an entrepreneur generally vary among high-GPA students. Administrators target emerging entrepreneurs who have the drive, ambition and passion to succeed. This does not necessarily correlate with GPA, but recognizes that education is critical to future success.

Finance Minor

Some knowledge of finance is necessary to understand and carry out work in most companies and other organizations. Profits and value creation are the “bottom lines” to which firms direct their efforts. The finance minor is designed for individuals desiring to gain some familiarity with financial management as well as the financial system of institutions and markets in which firms must operate. Some acquaintance with investment techniques may help students in managing their personal finances.

The finance minor is particularly useful for business students in other majors who take the requisite courses, and other students who desire to acquire some understanding of finance without having to take all the core business school requisites. Both groups will be exposed to important fundamentals yet they also will have the flexibility to consider several areas of finance.

Human Resource Management Minor

The competitive advantage derived from the more effective use of human resource management (HRM) policies, practices and procedures is the focus of the HRM minor. The HRM minor is relevant to a variety of students universitywide who want to learn to better manage a firm’s human resources. This includes, but is not limited to, students who become line managers and need to implement HR policies as they hire and manage the performance of their employees, students who become entrepreneurs and need a fundamental knowledge of HRM to run their companies more effectively, and students who become members of not-for-profit organizations and need to understand the basics of HRM because they rarely are able to hire HR staff. The curriculum of the HRM minor covers a range of topic areas taught from both theoretical and applied perspectives. Students are exposed to a wide array of HR functional areas including staffing, performance management, training, compensation, employer-employee rights and responsibilities and human resource information systems.

International Business Minor

Global business is fast becoming an important part of the U.S. economy. The world that college graduates are facing will essentially be a triad of powers (the United States and, perhaps, Canada and Latin America; Europe; and Japan and its Asian neighbors) and a borderless world. This suggests a need to be trained for employment that will have international implications. Whether students take a major in business, fashion design and merchandising, the hard sciences, English or education, some training in global outreach, cultural diversity and “business cultures” will be necessary. The international business minor will introduce students to cultural issues of a broad, global nature.

Requirements

Courses on a single foreign language or ILR Level One competency as determined by an international business faculty advisor in consultation with the appropriate language faculty member. (Generally, this proficiency can be achieved by completion of the Intermediate I level of a foreign language.)

Required sophomore- and junior-level business core

Marketing Minor

In today’s highly competitive business environment, successful managers must have a strong focus on providing customer satisfaction. This requires the ability to research consumer needs, wants and desires; understand what these mean in terms of company offerings (e.g., the marketing mix); and communicate the benefits of their products or services effectively.

The marketing minor is designed to help students develop the perspectives and skills necessary to understand consumers and to provide customer satisfaction. Students completing a minor should be equipped to bring a marketing orientation to both profit and not-for-profit organizations.
